The O2 arena

The O2 hosts the world's biggest live events. From The BRITs to the National Television Awards, conferences to choirs, it's home to a wide range of content. The flexibility of arena layouts, plus the option to drape the top tier seating, provides opportunities for a variety of productions of all sizes. The O2 arena can host conference events for 1,500 to 17,000 guests. The floor can hold awards and dinners for 800 to 2,200 seated guests. VIP areas and concourses are perfectly suited for break-outs, catering and networking spaces. The O2 allows productions to be ambitious, giving conferences a home to grow year on year.

Eventim Apollo

The Eventim Apollo is an event space with a difference. Exceptional facilities to accommodate your award show, gala dinner or product launch come as standard. What sets us apart from the crowd is a unique cultural heritage. The auditorium provides a stunning backdrop to any event. Originally designed as an Art Deco cinema, this versatile space seamlessly fuses high-tech sound and lighting with 1932 grandeur. Hold your event on the stage where Bowie killed Ziggy, Kate Bush made her comeback and AC/DC fired their cannons.

THE HALLS
Wolverhampton
WV1 1RD

The Halls

The Halls have been a beloved part of the city of Wolverhampton since it's opening in May 1938. Offering the very best entertainment from some of the biggest names in music, comedy and sport, audiences have been known to travel hundreds of miles for a night out here. From rock legends as varied as Queen, David Bowie and Nirvana to huge pop acts including One Direction, Take That and Little Mix. Legends of comedy from Ken Dodd to Jimmy Carr, Victoria Wood to Sarah Millican have played sell-out shows and we've hosted some of the best performances from the world of darts and wrestling.

85 years after opening and with a new lease of life from a multi-million-pound refurbishment, this prestigious multi-functional venue opened its doors with a headline show from Blur.

MERCEDES-BENZ ARENA

Mercedes-Platz 1

10243 Berlin

Germany

Mercedes-Benz Arena

The Mercedes-Benz Arena, opened in September 2008, is one of the most modern multipurpose arenas in the world. It is home to DEL record-champion ice hockey team Eisbären Berlin and the most successful German basketball team of the past 20 years, ALBA BERLIN. As well as high-class sporting events, the Mercedes-Benz Arena hosts the finest entertainment and concert highlights. Located right in the heart of Berlin and next to the East Side Gallery, between East Central Station (Ostbahnhof) and Warschauer Straße, the Mercedes-Benz Arena is a 17,000-seat venue with numerous event and entertainment suites.

The technical standards of the Mercedes-Benz Arena not only ensure ideal acoustics and a perfect view from all seats but also guarantee that the arena can be transformed into an intimate corporate set up or a charming special events' location.

VERTI MUSIC HALL

Mercedes Platz
10243 Berlin
Germany

Verti Music Hall

Verti Music Hall will set new standards for event venues of comparable size with regards to customer experience and production. The interior of the venue is intimate and high-end in appearance, while the outer concourses have a more urban, industrial style. The Verti Music Hall is a valuable addition to Berlin's venue landscape, for fans and promoters as well as for agencies and companies. Despite its intimate atmosphere, the Verti Music Hall is well equipped to host productions of varying technical requirements. Due to its design, the calculated rigging capacity will exceed 200 tons, which is more than most arenas can currently provide.
